Baker Electric Celebrates 70th Anniversary

Escondido – Baker Electric Incorporated marks seven decades this month serving Southern California in industrial, institutional, commercial and residential electrical construction, including photovoltaic solar (PV) technology. Located in North County Escondido since 1938 and founded by LeRoy Baker, the Baker family is well known by the local community and to their loyal customer base. Family owned and operated through four generations, the Baker family, which includes their valued employees, proudly recognizes this tremendous milestone.

From humble beginnings, the Company, a fifty-year member of the National Electrical Contractors Association, has grown to employ two hundred and twenty five individuals and performs in excess of fifty million dollars in electrical construction work annually. With the onset of renewable green energy, Baker Electric is contributing to conservation efforts by installing hundreds of solar powered systems and has become a leading contractor in renewable energy technology.

“The success of our business through the past seventy years is founded on the capabilities of our people to meet and exceed the demands of our customers in an ever-changing construction environment” commented Ted Baker, President of Baker Electric Inc. He continued by saying “we are proud of our history, and will continue to focus our efforts on our performance today and into the future.”
